25X1

1. Between 21 September and 10 October 1953, [redacted] about 800 men were employed for the construction work at the new barracks installation east of Drachhausen, that construction work was sped up and that the installation was scheduled to be ready for occupation by 15 November. After 12 October, about 100 Soviet soldiers from Camp Forst Tauer will allegedly be employed for clearing and transportation work. During the period of observation, several motor vehicles were withdrawn and replaced by 9 other vehicles from the Soviet construction headquarters at Leipzig.

5. On 15 October, [redacted] construction work on the new barracks installation east of Drachhausen was nearing completion. The 24 buildings observed were provided with roofs and 20 of them had already windows. Interior installation work was being done. A Soviet guard detail was quartered in a low, brick building, about 15 x 20 meters, in the northeastern corner of the installation. The tents in which the guard detail had previously been quartered were removed. More unidentified buildings were under construction south of the barracks area. Eight structures had to the barracks installatio. The road passing the north side of the installation was blocked by barriers about 20 meters from the installation. The barriers were occupied by German civilians. 1

- 25X1 1. [redacted] Comment. Information on the location of the barracks installation east of Brachhausen was contained in a previous report. [redacted] 25X1
 The detachment of a fatigue detail from Camp Forst Tauer, [redacted] 25X1 mentioned lead to the assumption that the 30th Gds W Tank SP Regt will actually move into the new installation. The regiment had vacated the barracks installation in Spremberg in May 1953, when it was turned over to the
